PHARMACOLOGICAL CLASSIFICATION: Anti-ignorance and anti-suppression agent

PHARMACOLOGICAL ACTION:

Liberation has a stimulating, releasing and purifying effect on the causal body and works to directly remove inherited tendencies of mind, action and association.

Previously unconscious or sub-conscious mental and emotional patterning is stimulated and brought to the field of awareness either in waking life or in dreams and is given the opportunity to be seen inspected and released.

The ingredients in Liberation work synergistically to accomplish their effect. Although Liberation's pharmacological action is a result of its complex inter-related formulation, the following can also be said about its individual components:

Shungite

Is a substance which is used to purify dirty water. Since our blood is largely made up of water the Shungite cleans the blood which according to Chinese medicine is carrying our mind. Shungite is also used as an electro magnetic shield to prevent interference from the sea of wifi we swim in everyday.

Panch Agni

Panch agni is an alchemical formulation made from the ash of 4 fires which have been burning continuously for the last 50 years. In the middle of these fires different people have been sitting chanting purification mantras continuously for the entire time. Panch agni acts powerfully to burn up a lot of the mental and emotional impurities in our system.

Royal jelly

Embodies the feeling of regality to allow us to take up our position as a benevolent ruler in this realm.

Kunjika mantra

A Durga mantra chanted by an enlightened sage which facilitates change on every level and gives us a no nonsense attitude to reality allowing us to move into the embodied space where we start to live out our dreams and not just talk about them.

Rasashastric Navaratna

The most revered alchemical elixir within the Ayurvedic tradition and its formulation is true to the original design by the Buddhist Sage Nargarjuna Based on the purified oxides of nine precious gems, and taking a year to make, releases and purifies old patterning and karmas held in the tissues and psychic structures of the body mind.

Light of Jupiter

Is the collected light of the planet jupiter used to express the exuberance of life.

Protea flower essence

The essence of spontaneity and playfulness.

Reishi

Ties the formulation together by regulating and synergizing all of the ingredients.
